Dot Moore

1933-2013

is known as the "Founding Mother" of the Whole Backstage. Influential in encouraging people who might not have otherwise been inclined, Dot inspired thousands of young people and adults to give more of themselves than they thought possible. Dot's vision of people working together to create beauty and art will be her legacy and that legacy will always be called the Whole Backstage.

The Whole Backstage is home to an Award Winning Children's Theatre!

About The Whole Backstage...

The Whole Backstage Theatre began over 40 years ago. Founding Mother Dot Moore had a vision of providing an artistic and creative outlet for our community.

The WBS occupies a former elementary school, built in the 1920s. Our home is now listed on the Alabama Historical Register.

Inside is our comfortable 333-seat auditorium with a stage area found in venues of much larger cities. We have a versatile "Black Box" theatre, the Duff/McDaniel performance space. Our facility creates a more intimate setting for our actors as well as for our audiences.

We have gifted and talented volunteers of every age and from every part of our community.

The Whole Backstage has built a reputation for excellence in the performing arts throughout North Alabama and beyond. Our award winning Children's Theatre program is recognized throughout the southeast as a leading force in inspiring youth performances.

We are an important part of a broader artistic community helping to make the Marshall County area a highly desirable and charming place to live and visit.

There is always something new and surprising awaiting you at The Whole Backstage Theatre. We welcome your participation as an audience member, actor, or as a member of the backstage crew. You are an important part of our home.
